

Robert R. Brown
Spokane, Washington

Professional Profile:

Handled a large number of complex surety, liability, property and auto claims over a 38 years involving the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Alaska and Montana. Of note was one of the claim/suit and favorable result reached in the Idaho case of Rawson vs. the United Steelworkers. This case involved 4 wrongful death cases in Idaho twice appealed to the Idaho Supreme Court and ultimately heard, witnessed and resolved by the United States Supreme Court.

Provided claims expertise to the legal master appointed by the Spokane State Court in the large firestorm that swept our area in 2001. It involved the evaluation, Negotiations and dispersal of millions to victims of firestorm recovered from responsible parties.

Thirty-Eight years of experience in the area has provided a unique insight and understanding of the attorneys, judges and legal jurisdiction of the claims area serviced.

Tenure included participation as a member and president of both local claims manager and American Arbitration Association.

Functional Skills:

Trained in multiline claims handling by company/ professional schools/ seminars throughout the career years by USF&G, St. Paul and Travelers Insurance Companies. This schooling included bad faith claims handling and computerized skills.

Employment History:

Litigation Adjusters, Inc. as a Sr. Adjuster. Hired by USF&G in Seattle as a claims representative involving claims handling in the areas of surety, liability, property and auto claims for the states of Washington and Alaska. In 1973 promoted to an S.A.I.C. position which was held for approximately 20 years. This involved employee supervision, claims and litigation handling/management. The company was eventually purchased by St. Paul and later acquired by Travelers Insurance. Retired January 23, 2007 with 38 years of continued service.

Personal Data:

Education: Graduated from Seattle University in 1964 attended Gonzaga Law School followed by an honorable discharge from the army.